

CARTOOB ANIMAL BUNCH

The first ever mobile app that uses body recognition to transform you or your friend into a cartoon character.

The Cartoob Animal Bunch mobile app turns you (front CAM mode) or your friend (back CAM mode) into a cartoon hippo, panda or koala that imitates your moves and voice in real time - the features never seen before on a smart phone or a tablet.

November 29, 2013 – Released today, the Cartoob Animal Bunch mobile app takes mobile app entertainment to the next level. It transforms you (front CAM mode) or your friend (back CAM mode) into a cartoon hippo, panda or koala that speak when you speak and repeat certain body gestures as you move in front of the camera.

If you tap on the characters, some pre-animated gestures are displayed. You can take a photo or make a video and share your content via social networks with your friends or a worldwide audience. You can perk-up your cartoons with a wide assortment of accessories and various backgrounds. Last but not least, there are also the so-called intruders, who can make your content even more diverse and colorful.

The app is available for $0.99 for iPad, with the Christmas edition coming up shortly! iPhone version coming up in a few days, Android and Windows versions are expected soon.
